DUDLEY A. WHITE FOR SENATOR

This newspaper strongly favors the nomination of Congressman Dudley A. White for United States Senator.

We base this decision primarily upon the fact that he already has made a record in the House and we know from that where he will stand in the Senate. In the second place, he will represent the entire state, without sectional or class leanings.

Born and brought up in rural Ohio, with five generations of Ohio farmers and small town merchants back of him, it is no wonder that he understands the viewpoint of the rural population and its urgent needs. He has proved this fact time and again by his steadfast opposition to coercion and compulsion in the Farm Acts. He can be counted upon to support and help formulate a practical farm program without regimentation.

But so far is he from being a one-idea man that from the early days of his service in the House he has been a commanding figure in respect to the broad fundamental issues of the day. Such, for example, is the fact that he made the first speech from the Republican side against the Supreme Court Packing Bill. He fought the reorganization bill. He fought to prevent the unnecessary increase in the tax on payrolls and pay envelopes. He fought New Deal extravagance. He fought to make the relief dollar go the full route for relief.

His record shows that he is able to cope with farm problems and city problems; to deal with business, labor and social questions. He is a candidate whom we can warmly recommend to the voters of this section, knowing that he will ably represent the interests of all sections.

DOES AVERAGE FARMER APPROVE OF WAGNER LAW?

Congress is now in a hot debate over proposed changes in the Wagner (Communist) labor law. Wagner does not need the interests of the farmers of New York state when he can be elected by the combined city vote. This law has Roosevelt's open support and every labor union follower regardless of what union he belongs to will urge defeat of the changes.

What are the farm interests doing to protect themselves? This is not purely a union measure for if the law stands as it is the unions have the promise that farmers will next come under the New Deal provisions. It is proposed to release labor in plants from provisions of the Wagner law where agriculture products, farm and garden, are processed.

The meat packers are bidding on hogs on the basis of what it costs to process meats. The canners of all fruits and vegetables do the same. Processors of grains for human consumption do the same. In fact the farmer under the Wagner law is the goat and his price is held down to meet the increased cost of processing what is produced on the farm.

If you have not written your congressman and senators, do so. We know how some of them stand but you owe it to them to write a postal card and give your approval urging a vote to amend the present law.

If the law is not amended by this Congress and the New Deal has control of the next, you face what the processors now face and are charging back to you in market prices, of wage regulation for all farm labor. The New Deal is pledged to the unions to bring this about. The time to enter a wedge is by giving your approval NOW on amendment of the Wagner law.

AT YOUR EXPENSE

A bill sponsored by Republican members of the New York General Assembly which would require all public projects within the state to carry a sign, "This Project is Paid for by Taxpayers," has been vetoed by Governor Lehman. This recalls the tactics employed in the last presidential campaign in which merchants were threatened with prosecution for displaying cards which revealed how much of the price of various articles represented hidden taxes.

Nothing can be more embarrassing to Democratic plans than the disclosure of the big bite taxes take out of every dollar.

Never in the history of the nation has the government been so overlaid with dead weight of nonproductive employees depending upon the taxpayers for support, and at salaries above the average of those who are employed in commercial pursuits.

Those who do not pay income tax should not be misled into the belief that they pay no taxes, for they pay—every time they buy a loaf of bread, a pack of cigarettes, chewing gum, gasoline or lipstick.

If the public were really educated on the tax question, and knew precisely what the extravagant programs carried on by reckless politicians cost every individual, from the man who is on relief to the man who is in the high-salary brackets, there would be an irresistible demand for economy and sanity in expenditures.

Every public project ought to carry a sign telling precisely how much it is costing the taxpayers. The notion that the government "gives away money" is one of the biggest fallacies ever perpetrated on a gullible human race. The government gives nothing. It takes.—Ohio State Journal.

BE THANKFUL WE ARE NOT IN WAR

While the rest of the world is depressed by wars and the misery they entail, it is interesting to know that two great fairs for education and amusement will again open shortly in New York and San Francisco.

What a contrast to the death, destruction and debt that face warring nations. At the fairs in California and New York will be presented a record of industrial and intellectual achievement for the betterment of humanity.

This nation should feel most thankful that it can devote itself to such constructive undertakings. Our record of progress as shown in these two great fairs, should be an object lesson to our citizens to stand firmly for policies which recognize the superiority of intelligence over brute force in securing lasting settlements of disputed questions.

Let us hope that as our people visit these interesting expositions on the two sides of our continent, they will think of the important principles they represent beyond the mere giving of pleasure. Be thankful you can travel in America as a free citizen and enjoy the privileges it has to offer.

 ARTHUR BLASER, MANAGER

When one makes a survey of the New Deal and how members of both branches of Congress are herded and forced to vote on measures under threats of loss of relief and other funds in their districts and states it is no wonder Sen. Vic Donahey wants to retire. Being on the ground floor and knowing what is going on, and yet helpless to correct the situation, leaves a burden on any member who thinks for himself. If the member is conscious of his duty and responsibility the load is double. Being a member of the majority party responsible for the capital government in the nation off went his head so far as a job was concerned. Now days you do not hear much loud boasting from Walker or Ramsey for the reason there is a new hand in control of the state's cash box. Moreover new regulations from the state side, insures employees a square deal.

It has been some time since we have had much news about Wilberforce. When that school was a part of the Democratic machine there was always plenty of things taking place. Dr. Walker, president and Bishop Ramsey, with Davey backing, drove right and left, firing and hiring. If a member of the faculty did not join the procession off went his head so far as a job was concerned. Now days you do not hear much loud boasting from Walker or Ramsey for the reason there is a new hand in control of the state's cash box. Moreover new regulations from the state side, insures employees a square deal.

Governor Bricker has named some outstanding men of the colored race as new board members and that accounts for the silence from the Walker-Ramsey sector. Last week an announcement was made that Dr. Jones, Prof. Few, Prof. McGinnis and others have been restored. All had good records in the teaching profession and were removed admittedly by those in authority for political reasons.

We picked up a point during a debate on a farm issue in Congress that is worth considering, especially by farmers in the great central and mid-western states. The New Deal proposes some 200 odd million dollars for farm parity payments. The Farm Bureau lobby is for it but what branch of farming will really get the benefit? It was admitted that both wheat and corn are now about at parity price. This leaves tobacco, rice and cotton to benefit under the proposed bill. The head of the American Farm Bureau is backing the bill. It is also proposed to add the appropriation for the Farm Tenancy to this bill and this will make 70 million dollars more. A schedule accompanies this bill and it is interesting. Each loan is to be between five and six thousand dollars. Ohio is to get only twenty-six such loans, while Texas will get 4,300 such loans. Seventy-five percent of the taxes to be collected to raise the 270 million will be collected in the northern states. If you were a congressman or a senator how would you vote on such a bill?

In Democratic circles in Ohio the fight between two ex-governors, White and Davey, has the rank and file split about even according to observers. We had a very prominent Democratic tell us Tuesday that the governorship contest will just about insure defeat for that ticket next November. It is conceded that Martin L. Davey has the inside track at this time. The Sawyer element is saying little and supporting White. Davey decorated Sawyer in the last contest by a neat defeat according to inside charges. If Davey gets the nomination he sure will have a nice lot of trouble ahead of him in his fall campaign. Our Columbus friend tells us the danger is that this fight will drag down a great majority of the Democratic county and district nominees. Meantime it looks like John Bricker will get all the Republican vote and half of the Democratic vote.

If the average Democrat or New Dealer thinks the European war is far enough away that his son or sons will not be drawn into it by the Roosevelt administration, someone should spread that speech Tuesday given by a member of Parliament as to what it would cost America in the future if we do not join the allies in the present conflict. England is relying on FDR's promise to give aid in the way of men and battleships and nothing but a Democratic campaign stands in the way at present. If we are not going to get in the war abroad then why the rush weeks and months ago to get young men from Democratic families of prominence, jobs in the Navy and War departments in Washington? The Democrats cannot aid England with boys from families with political pull escaped from a big office building in Washington. It will be the poor devils from other families without a pull that will be called for service.

Sam Guard, noted live stock editor, asked the question over the radio or Wednesday, as to why this country is not supplying England with bacon? The same question can be asked as to why England and France purchase beef and wheat in Argentina in preference to this country. They do not hesitate to ask us for help in their European combat. We pay them $85 an ounce for their gold which is much greater than the world price set by the Bank of England. We loaned them money, gave them men and ships in the World War, and received nothing in return. England gives nothing and takes everything everywhere at all times. Answering Mr. Guard's question is simple. He should inquire of Sec. Hull as to the provisions of our trade treaty. He says England is taking two and one-half million pounds of bacon from Sweden weekly. Instead he answers his own question by that statement. England is taking Turkish tobacco in preference to American tobacco yet England asks us for war material and planes. Through King George, England was promised our boys for gun fodder at that famous visit in Washington last summer, but that was one promise that has not been made good due to public opposition.

Congress passed a special bill introduced by Cong. Clarence J. Brown for an increase in a Civil War pension to Mrs. Effie Washington, colored, Xenia. The Great FDR in a moment of economical dreaming vetoed the bill probably to save money for New Deal spending rather than aid an aged colored citizen. Her fate was not much different than has fallen to other Civil War pensioners who have been denied aid. The House took a vote on the veto which stood 212 for and 143 against. It takes a two-third vote to override a presidential veto and this aged widow must make the sacrifice in her declining days while some Communist gets a $5,000 job or to aid in paying the millions the 745 acre airport near the capital will cost so that Mamma Roosevelt can reach the White House quicker and not have to ride four or five miles by auto from one of three airports now in use. New Deal Has Some "Dirty Linen"

This account of how federal funds were used in gambling on the cotton market is continued from last issue. The charge was made by Sen. McKellar, Dem., Tenn., on the floor of the Senate in debating a bill where the American Cotton Cooperatives Association, a New Deal board, was asking for five million dollars to cover losses in cotton gambling. The statements are from the Congressional Record and not from notes or memory of the writer who heard the debate on the question.

The following is the last paragraph of the former article as a review of the continued story:

"He (E. F. Croommore, New Orleans, who drew a salary of $75,000 a year out of funds intended for cotton producers) asks for $419,091.17 for the Alabama Cotton Cooperative Association, successor to the Alabama Farm Bureau Cotton Association that went into bankruptcy. All the various beneficiaries are set out. Four million and a half dollars is divided up, but where does the other half million go?"

On page 6300 Congressional Record, Sen. McKellar states that not a single cotton farmer in these associations ever got a thin dime of profit out of this cooperative association other than one that was an official. Their debts amounting to $400,000 and another of $800,000 have not been paid.

Down in Memphis, at Monroe and Front streets stands a magnificent building of stone, a great office building erected by the Midsouth Cooperative Association. This building stands in no farmer's name and there is no incumbrance on it. Mr. Henry owes the government right now $800,000 and has not paid any of it and is waiting for Croommore to get this bill through, to use the money for paying the debt he owes the government, representing money which should never have been loaned to him. . . . If the debts of all these associations were paid all would be in bankruptcy.

Sen. McKellar brings out that this bill was not offered by southern cotton interests but by a wheat farmer (Sen. Frazier, North Dakota, as if it was a bill relating to wheat). The cotton growers did not ask Sen. Frazier to present this bill. Who did?

On page 6303 Sen. McKellar refers to a bill offered by Sen. Frazier to reimburse the wheat cooperatives for similar charges and this bill is now before the Court of Claims.

On page 6308 Sen. Ellender, La., D., states that the A. C. C. A. has no individual membership of cotton farmers but is composed of officers of other cotton farm organizations. Bids were asked for handling cotton and the A. C. C. A. made the lowest bid from 25 to 40 cents a bale. By storing the cotton there was a gain of four cents a pound. Some has been sold and some is yet in storage at so much per bale per month. McKellar then asks if most of this cotton has not been in storage as much as 90 months? It had previously been pointed out that charges some time ago had reached $19.34 per bale.

Sen. McKellar opened the discussion at the April 10th session that it was the cotton farmers that had been robbed and it was to them the money was due, not the officers of a lot of associations that were interlocked. The cotton farmers have only received advances at enormous rates of interest. A quotation from Matthew 25, twenty-ninth verse was McKellar's idea of what had happened.

"For unto everyone that hath shall be given, and he that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath". Abundance. Everyone of these lobbyists (Cotton Coops) are here in abundance. Croommore gets a salary now of $35,000 and his directors salaries are from $6,000 to $8,000 a year. These men are lobbying here every day for this five million dollars. I am proposing to give this money back to the farmers, not to these lobbyists. Each of the 250,000 cotton farmers would get from $15 to $20 under this bill which is much less than they can hope for if the lobby co-ops get their hands on it.

Thus the debate continued and the bill has not yet passed.

When the writer entered the Senate gallery not knowing what topic was under discussion or what Senator was speaking, we asked a neatly dressed gentleman sitting next to us to who was speaking. The reply received was, "He was no Senator." Knowing the rules of a legislative body did not permit outsiders on the floor during session, we took it for granted the speaker was a senator.

Our informant in a rather rough tone gave us a reply to the inquiry. "He's no senator, he's a skunk".

This was perfectly satisfactory for we knew we had the pleasure of sitting beside a gentleman that evidently was not only interested in what was being said but opposed to it.

Adjournment was taken and our neighbor and his two companions asked us to leave the gallery. We passed an attendant nearby who the gentleman was that had been sitting by the writer. His polite answer was, "I don't know his name but he is one of the 'top boys' over at the Ag Department."

And that was the only identification we could get.

Such is the legislative ways and such is the conduct of the model government under New Deal leadership. If you think it is different, spend a week peering behind the curtain as to what is going on at your seat of government.

These two articles have been published in answer to Roosevelt's Saturday night speech that "every major scandal in the United States has happened under a Republican administration."

Now In Formation

Freeports are bright for a twelve team soft ball league in the county under present arrangements. It was first suggested that the games be played at twilight but in as much as Osborn and Yellow Springs have electric lights for night games there may be a change. It is said a movement is under way for lighting the local field for night games. Another meeting will be held in Yellow Springs next Monday evening to elect officers and complete arrangements for league formation.

Phone Toll Rate
Slash Effective

Another reduction in Bell Telephone long distance rates, the ninth in a series which started in 1926, became effective Tuesday.

Reductions begin at airline distances of 420 miles and become progressively larger as the distance increases. As an example the former day station-to-station three-minute period rate from Xenia to San Francisco was $5.50. The new comparable rate is $3.75.

"The reduction is expected to save the nation's present long distance telephone users $5,300,000 annually," said W. M. Fryman, commercial manager here for the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

POULTRY FACTSNEED MODEL HEN, SAYS POULTRYMANLong Life and Good Laying Qualities Count.By Prof. J. C. Graham, Poultry Department, Massachusetts State College

Poultrymen need a change of style in breeding objectives. The model hen should be long lived as well as a good layer.

The first breeding of chickens was for fighting purposes. One of the ancestors of the Rhode Island Red, the most popular breed in Massachusetts, was the Malay Red game bird. Birds bred for the fighting pit naturally were rugged, strong birds. From fighting qualities, some of the poultry breeders turned to size as the aim of their breeding work.

Later, show type and color were given the greatest prominence by leading breeders. Many new breeds and varieties were developed in America during the period from 1870 to 1910. Since that time the trend has been toward higher egg production, with some attention given to increasing the size of eggs. The efforts of breeders to increase production have progressed to the extent that in many of the better poultry flocks, no birds are used as breeders unless they have produced at least 200 eggs during their pullet year.

Accompanying this increase in egg production there has been an alarming increase in the mortality of pullets during the laying year. In the state college flock, records during the past laying season indicate that more than 50 per cent of the deaths were caused by some body weakness, rather than by infectious diseases. Carefully kept records in laying contests and at other agricultural colleges show the same general situation.

The emphasis on show type and on high production over a period of years, to the neglect of vitality and vigor, has resulted in a gradual decline in the durability of the average highly bred poultry flock. The modern hen doesn't have the constitution to stand the strain of her own high production.

The poultryman must correct this condition by locating the long lived families of hens in his flock, and using birds from those families as breeders and the foundation stock for his future flocks.

Chick Brooding in Tents Costs Less Than Houses

Chicks can be brooded successfully in tents instead of brooder houses in regions where the rainfall is light and early spring temperatures are above freezing, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. In experiments conducted at the department's poultry experiment station, Glendale, Ariz., there was somewhat less mortality in the chicks that were brooded in tents than in similar groups in regular brooder houses.

In most cases the tents required less heat for brooding being warmer during the day though colder at night. The tents were of 50 days' duration and the brooders were heated by electricity. The estimated annual cost of the tents and equipment, including depreciation and interest on investment, was less than half that for the brooder houses.

Original Bantam Breeds

Ducks for Meat, Eggs

Regardless any difference in size or color of eggs, it may be said that the Pekin duck is to be preferred where meat production is the object, as it is on practically all duck farms. The Pekin has to give place to the Indian Runner if egg production alone is had in mind and these two breeds may be said to measure in themselves the most desirable market qualities; with other breeds having each its own distinctive merits. The Indian Runner lays a white egg.

Feed for Pullets

Pullets should use about 25 pounds of feed per day. The proportion of mash and scratch grain will vary from equal parts of grain and mash up to two parts of grain and one of mash. The total amount consumed is the important thing. Any attempt to increase consumption of mash by eliminating grain should be done cautiously. It is important that hens maintain their body weight, and rather heavy feeding of grain will help to do this.—American Agriculturist.

Constipation in Chickens

Chicks that are suffering from constipation will as a usual thing stand in a humped position and are fidgety. When emitting droppings they strain and often move backward and make a cheeping sound. When constipation is noticed, give the chicks from one eighth to one-half pound of apron seeds for 100 chicks—depending on age, in a mouse mash. After that, so the corrective may not have to be repeated, change the feed to correct the condition.—Oklahoma Farmer

What Albert Daniels' Home
County Thinks of Him!

The following editorial with reference to the candidacy of ALBERT DANIELS FOR STATE SENATE in this district appeared unsolicited in the Greenfield Daily Times Wednesday of last week. This paper is published in Mr. Daniels' home county of Highland.

WELL QUALIFIED FOR THE POST

Supported strongly by the Republican party in his home town and county and accorded the confidence of party leaders and constituents in the other four counties of the district, Albert L. Daniels, candidate for the nomination for state senator from the Fifth-Sixth Ohio Senatorial District at the May 14 primary, is gaining widespread attention from the Republican electorate in the District as a man well qualified to represent this section of the state in the Ohio Senate for the 1941-42 term.

Mr. Daniels is opposed for the nomination by Rev. John Grierson, also of Highland County. It is a matter of record that the Highland County Republican Executive Committee, the nominal and the actual directing body of the party in the county, gave only Mr. Daniels its endorsement for the nomination.

Republican voters who scan the past record of a candidate in gauging his qualifications for the office he seeks may look at Mr. Daniels' experiences over a long period of years and find therein a public service that has provided him with first-hand knowledge of state legislative procedure through actual participation in that procedure.

Mr. Daniels represented Highland County in the 88th and 89th General Assemblies, 1931-32 and 1933-34. While in the House he held responsible committee posts. He served on the School Finance and Motor Vehicle Committees, on the Special Committee on Rules, on the Committee for the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home at Xenia.

In the House he dealt with agricultural legislation and has a keen insight into the problems confronting the Ohio farmer today, not only because of his contact with those matters while in the Legislature but further because of his private business interests in this agricultural community.

He strongly advocates legislation that will promote the welfare of the farmer. He is vitally interested in furthering the state's program of educating its youth.

He recognizes full well the need of cooperative relations between capital and labor, and the correlation of agriculture and industrial interests in a state where both are of so great importance. He is vitally concerned in maintaining Ohio's financial integrity. He is conversant with the needs of the aged and other dependents for financial assistance. He is opposed to monopoly by business, industry and public utility services, but stands unqualifiedly against governmental red-tape, state or federal.

ral, that would strangle or compete with the efforts of the honest business or industrial individual or corporation.

Mr. Daniels first served in public office as mayor of Greenfield, having held that office for two terms. He has been identified with the Republican party for more than 20 years, and is a veteran in service to that party. For the past 15 years he has been a member of the county executive committee. On the occasions when he was unsuccessful himself in seeking nomination for an office in the primary, he devoted his utmost efforts to the success of his party's chosen nominees during the ensuing campaigns.

Mr. Daniels has identified himself since shortly after the close of the World War with veterans organizations, chiefly as an untiring worker in behalf of the service-connected disabled and their dependents. He is now adjutant of the Ohio Department, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, and has served the Department as Commander. He has been a member of that organization's National Rehabilitation Committee, and has supported the cause of the veteran in the Ohio House of Representatives, and upon invitation before committees of the National Congress.

The candidate is affiliated with the Fraternal Order of Eagles and is a Past Worshipful President of Paint Aerie 1325; he is a member and a Past Exalted Ruler of the local Elks Lodge, the Shrine, the Ohio Grange, the Knights of Pythias, Rotary Club, and is a Shiloh Mason. He is a member of First Methodist Church of Greenfield.

In private life Mr. Daniels is engaged in the manufacture of cigars, is a director of the Fidelity Building and Loan Co., and of the Peoples National Bank.

Mr. Daniels is a public speaker of note and certainly if such ability is looked upon as a requisite for the office he seeks, then the electorate may rest assured that any legislative matter he may present on the floor of the Ohio Senate, in the event of his nomination and election, will be forced in a manner that will command the attention and sincere consideration and study of his colleagues.

A vote for Albert L. Daniels at the May 14 primary will be a vote for a candidate unswervingly well fitted for the duties of the office he represents. The Fifth-Sixth District will be well represented by him.

ISAIAH GIVES GOD'S INVITATION

LESSON TEXT--Isaiah 55:1-11.
GOLDEN TEXT--Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near.--Isaiah 55:6.

Thirsty? A thousand signboards will tell you what to drink to refresh yourself. Most of the suggestions are there only to get your money, and often their proffered lift is a push downward and their refreshment is only a prelude to destruction. But they do declare that thirst is universally present; Throughout the Bible thirst is used to express man's need of and longing for God. He is a spiritual being made in the likeness and image of God and intended for fellowship with Him. Never will he be fully satisfied until he comes to God and meets his hunger and thirst with that "which is good."

The invitation of Isaiah is presented under the figure of a purchase. "Come ye, buy." In carrying out that thought we suggest that there are four steps in buying and using salvation:

I. Listen (v. 1).
"Ho, everyone, that thirsteth." This is as Spurgeon says "the cry of a salesman at a fair." Amid the confusing sounds and "disturbing sights" surrounding his customer the salesman must first be heard and catch the interest of his customer. The latter must listen to the offer and the recommendation of the salesman for sale.

II. Accept an unusual offer. Isaiah invites the buyer to make his purchase "without money and without price." Does that mean that there is no cost? No, it means that salvation is free for the sinner, but it is not free for him in buying and using it.

cost God the price of His only begotten Son. It is because Jesus paid the price of redemption that we may have it freely without cost.

II. Compare (vv. 2-5).

A good shopper compares values lest he make a bad bargain or buy that for which he has no real need. What is the situation of the one who is invited to buy what God offers? He is a sinner who has been fool any seeking to satisfy himself with the bread of this world will never satisfy and the water of this world only increases one's thirst. (See John 4:13-14.)

"Compare what God has to offer that which is good," that which delights the soul (v. 2). Here is life (v. 3) assured by the promise of One who made an "everlasting covenant" and died, assuring "living water" (v. 14). It results in ultimate glory (v. 5).

The one who honestly makes such a comparison is quickly satisfied that the time has come to:

III. Buy (vv. 6-9).

Penniless, the sinner may "buy" without money. He may call upon God, who has already called him. He may seek God, because He likes the good shepherd has been out seeking the lost sheep (Matt. 18:12).

Whichever man certainly not save himself; there are things which God expressive sinners to do. First, the sinner is to "seek the Lord" (v. 6). Right at your side, sinner; for "he is near" (v. 6). Therefore the sinner must "seek the Lord" (v. 6) once conscious of his sin. What shall he do with it? Forsake it in both thought and deed (v. 7) and God will "abundantly pardon." Observe that men may bring their sinful rejection of Him by themselves to the place where they not only do not listen to God's call, but actually do not want to hear it. "Seek ye the Lord while he may be found" (v. 8).

IV. Enjoy (vv. 10, 11).

Some foolish folk buy things and put them away where neither they nor anyone else can enjoy them.

Some worry so much about the price they paid or are so concerned about the preciousness of the thing purchased that they find no pleasure in using it.

Salvation is not a thing to be hidden or put on a shelf. In fact, it is not a thing at all, but a life. It is to grow, to bud, to blossom and to bear fruit. How? By being ready to receive God's Word which comes down like the rain from the heavens refreshing, encouraging, and fruitfully living the life of the believer.

God's Word never returns to Him void. He prospers it to accomplish His own purpose. But pray tell me if we never study it or even read

It, how can it help our lives? We "grow in grace" only as we grow "in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ" (II Pet. 3:18). We grow in knowledge as we study God's Word. Thus we come to enjoy our Christian life.

Healing Powers

There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits, and they were healed every one.
-Acts 5:16.

F.F.A. Boys Host To Six Counties

Thursday, May 9, the F. F. A. boys from six counties in southeastern Ohio will tour our community in a district livestock judging contest. This annual event is to help prepare the boys in this district for the state contest at Columbus.

The livestock producers and Miami Valley Milk Producers Association are each donating a trophy for the winning dairy and general livestock teams.

The Ferndale Farms, the Triangle Farms and Mac Harris are cooperating by providing rings of swine and horses. The other livestock classes will be furnished by farmers in central and southern Greene county.

Professor J. S. Coffey of Ohio State University will be the official judge.

The boys on the Cedarville team will be announced later.

Minus Ten Cows

Ralph Fulton, Osborn, has filed suit against the New York Central Railroad Co. for $1,006.98, the value of ten cows missing from a shipment of 30 head purchased in Kansas City.
Thirty head were loaded, only twenty head were delivered last February.
The cows were delivered in Dayton instead of Osborn, where one died due to neglect on the part of the railroad company. The shipment was received only under protest. Smith, McCallister

Sample Ballots Are In Circulation

The Republican State Committee has supplied each county chairman with a number of sample ballots such as will be voted upon at the primary on May 14th.

In as much as Earl Griffith, former secretary of state died some weeks ago, the name of George Neffner, who dates for the various offices.

has the convention endorsement, will take his place but voters must take the trouble to write the name and place an X before it. Mr. Neffner is now secretary of state by appointment of Gov. Bricker. He has been connected with the office as statistician for a number of years.

The ballots are three columns in width for each political party and are quite long due to the number of candidates for the various offices.

"Shooting High"

With loud "Yippees!" ringing in the air, Gene Autry and Jane Withers gallop into town in "Shooting High," the colorful action-romance of the West which comes to the Majestic Theater, Springfield, Ohio, Saturday with a preview Friday night.

In this gay film, Hollywood's favorite cowboys and the screen's No. 1 cowboy star ride like demons and shoot like sixty to corral a desperate band of bank-robbers, break up a family feud, arrange a love match for Gene and sing as only they can.
